

Realync Virtual Leasing & Video Tools

Connect With Residents and Close Leases Faster

Ninety-nine percent of prospective renters say they want to see specific apartment details. However, many properties fail to showcase unit-specific information online, making it harder for renters to envision their future homes during their search. That's why Grace Hill offers Realync's Virtual Leasing and Video Tools for multifamily clients focused on enhancing the renter experience, closing more leases, and driving better property results.

Don't Lose Leases to the Competition

Your prospective renters want to see your community, but without unit-level videos, they might choose another property. We know it can be tough to convince onsite teams to create compelling virtual tours if they are tech-averse or say they're too busy. Realync makes it easy!

Our industry-specific solution helps you:

- Create, edit, and publish custom video content.
- Convert more leases faster.
- Track and monitor video performance.
- Maintain consistent branding across media.

Create Do-It-Yourself (DIY) Maintenance Tips

Your onsite teams shouldn't have to spend their valuable time on excessive service requests for simple fixes. These minor issues can keep them from focusing on more complex repairs — which impacts your operations and resident satisfaction. That's why you need Realync.

- Create and share DIY video tutorials for common, minor requests.
- Reduce maintenance and leasing calls, freeing up time for onsite teams.
- Give residents the power to self-service minor issues quickly.

One service team saved 1,100 work orders and 272 hours by using videos to help residents resolve simple issues.¹

Engage Residents With Community Updates They'll Actually Watch

Residents are overwhelmed with emails, making it easy for important community updates to get lost. With Realync, you can deliver video updates that grab attention and keep residents informed.

- Simplify move-ins with informative video guides that help set residents up for success.
- Cut through the clutter with video emails sharing community news or answering specific resident questions.
